#MeToo Momentum

Trauma is the experience of being powerless to establish a boundary between our self and that which is about to inflict, or is already inflicting, serious harm. It is one of the most acute forms of suffering that a human being can know. Survivors of the abuse of power, especially sexual misconduct, harassment and assault, often remain silent to avoid further traumatization. This silencing intensifies the effects of trauma by increasing isolation and depriving those who have been violated of needed emotional support. #MeToo Momentum is a safe space for those who identify as female, to listen to each other, and to share their stories. Sunday, Nov. 18, 1:00–2:15 p.m., in Scott Hall 2.
