Measure for Measure, Friday, Mar. 6, 8:00 p.m. at Antaeus Theatre. "Some rise by sin and some by virtue fall." Sex and hypocrisy abound in this bleak comedy about the corruption of power and authority ... and the true nature of love and justice. Tickets are $25 and available at: <https://qrs.ly/fvauzah>.

You may also purchase tickets for Passion, Friday, Mar. 20, 8:00 p.m. at Theatre @ Boston Court. with Scott Budnick

Founder of The Anti-Recidivism Coalition (ARC) and recently appointed to Board of State and Community Corrections by the Speaker of the California Assembly, Scott Budnick left a successful career as a movie producer to fight for justice reform. He has returned to the film industry as Executive Producer of Just Mercy, a film about real-life defense attorney Bryan Stevenson, who fought to free a condemned death-row prisoner. Budnick was inspired to bring prisoners' stories to film and TV not long after starting ARC. "I met a guy at a party who was involved in the marriage equality movement and asked him what was the game-changing moment," Budnick recalls. "He said, 'Will & Grace, Ellen DeGeneres, Glee, Modern Family, Milk.' That was a decade of content that changed people's hearts and minds and how they voted throughout the country or just made them less dug-in against gay marriage."

Prior to the release of Just Mercy, Budnick and actor Michael B. Jordan teamed up on what the producer says is the largest social impact initiative ever tied to a film. The Represent Justice campaign included everything from a Common concert at California Rehabilitation Center in Riverside County to Just Mercy screenings for policy makers, including officials in Gov. Gavin Newsom's administration.
