Creating at the intersection of Our Faith and our World

with Mike Hernandez

Join us for a conversation and exploration with Mike Hernandez, All Saints Church's resident artist, who from his studio in Scott hall creates works of art specifically designed to be displayed in sacred spaces. We will hear about his work and process and explore how the church can build on its history and even more become an artists' colony where everyone's artistic talents are embraced.

Reclaiming the Bible

This is "bible study" with a difference. Our goal will be to heal and move beyond the misunderstanding, confusion, hurtful interpretation, oppression, and other ways our bible has been used against us. Jesus is the Word of God, and God's Word is one of love, hope, and reconciliation. This is the bible we'll strive together to come home to in this small group study.

Sundays, 4 p.m. on Zoom. Contact leader Charles Foster at drcharlesfoster@icloud.com for Zoom access.

Centering Prayer is a meditation practice that is centered in the contemplative Christian tradition. We Deeply Regret to Announce the Cancellation of Our Canterbury and Coventry Choirs Spring Concert Scheduled for Sunday, June 2, at 5:00 p.m.

This cancellation is in response to a directive from the All Saints Rector that, for now, traditional spirituals, slave songs, and freedom songs should not be sung at All Saints Church until we have thoroughly committed to understanding the pain and trauma these songs represent and the pain and trauma many still carry within themselves. This will be an ongoing discussion as we strive to be loving and engaged with one another.

Rest assured, the music department of All Saints Church remains steadfast in our commitment to providing beautiful, impactful and transformative music in a variety of musical expressions, continuing to act as ambassadors of All Saints' message of peace and justice to all people.

Adult Education with Rick Thyne: Jesus At Ground Level

Sundays, June 2, 9, 16, 23, and 30, 11:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m., in the Forum

For five Sundays in June, we'll explore together this person who is the center of our faith and, at the same time, the focus of so many of our questions and doubts. Does he still matter to us, or have we developed a faith that marginalizes him as we work to turn the human race into the human family? Bring your preconceptions and your open mind as we try to figure out the place Jesus holds in our beliefs and in our daily lives.

June 2: Jesus At Ground Level: Who was he? What do we know about his birth and his family? Was he educated? Was he very spiritual? How does he compare to Mohammed or the Buddha or Moses? Was he Divine?

June 9: What did he say? He is one of the most enduring teachers in human history; his stories and aphorisms, his parables and wise insights into people mark him as a teacher whose brilliance too often gets overshadowed by notions that he might have been Divine. What can we know about what he said, and which things that he taught still matter to us?

June 16: What did he do? We're told that he healed the sick, walked on water and, on a few occasions, raised up dead people from the grave. Really? Do we believe in these miracles? If so, why? If not, why not? If he matters to us, we want to figure out as near as we can what he did.

June 23: Why did he die? He was betrayed by his friends who turned him over to the religious and political leaders whom he threatened and, as they always do with revolutionaries, the authorities killed him. But is that it: is he just another martyr like so many other brave women and men? Or does his death have something to do with our sinfulness and God's forgiveness? Martyr or Savior: do you care which, if either, is true?

June 30: Did God raise him from the dead?

It's the most dramatic of the beliefs in the Christian faith: God raised a dead man, and Jesus is still alive in some heavenly realm, reigning over us and all of creation. It sounds ludicrous to a contemporary person who knows this kind of thing belongs in the category of fantasy and is not an event for educated people to take seriously. It may be nearly impossible to believe. But what if . . . ?

Fiction Fun! Reads The Master and Margarita by Mikhail Bulgakov

Friday June 28, 7:00 p.m., in the Guild Room

Join us as we discuss Mikhail Bulgakov's The Master and Margarita. (Recommended translation: Burgin and O'Connor, though others are possible.) This is an enduringly popular novel, much appreciated on Goodreads. Martin Seymour-Smith, in a survey of literature, said, "Bulgakov is one of the most interesting of writers to survive (one wonders how he did it) the horrors of the earlier Stalin years. His fictional procedures are among the most interesting of his time." And his "masterpiece" is The Master and Margarita, "a multi-layered piece of 'realist magic' about two critics, Berlioz and Bezdomnyi, and the devil, Pilate, Christ and the crucifixion—all in Moscow."
