in the Church, a reception follows in Sweetland Hall 8:30 – 9:00 p.m.

Internationally renowned Celtic teacher, John Philip Newell, will reflect on the themes of his new book, The Great Search: Turning to Earth & Soul in the Quest for Healing & Home, in the context of the devastating Southern California wildfires — inviting us through word, music, symbol and song to grieve our losses and re-imagine our future. You are invited to bring with you a symbol or photograph representing what has been lost — or a remnant or object from the ashes of your home — and place it by the altar of hope at the front of the church as we lament the sufferings of Earth and humanity and yearn for the way forward together. This will be an Interfaith experience and all are welcome!

The gathering will be live-streamed at <https://allsaints-pas.org/live-stream/>. Books will be available for purchase.

We Invite You to Help Us Create an Altar of Hope

In preparation for our evening together we will create an altar of hope at the front of the church on the chancel steps and we invite you to bring a remnant or object from the ashes of your home or a photograph and place it by the altar of hope as we lament the sufferings of Earth and humanity and yearn for the way forward together. The church will also be open through the week, Monday-Friday from 9:00 a.m.–5:00 p.m. to place objects – or bring them with you on the night of the 16th. Don't miss this opportunity to learn from this great teacher in community!

Sacred Earth Sacred Soul Celtic Wisdom 1

Celtic Wisdom 1 is the first of a three-part series of annual retreats led by the Celtic teacher John Philip Newell and his colleague Cami Twilling in which we explore the sacredness of every human being, the sacredness of the feminine, and the sacredness of Earth.

The teachings of this retreat are based on John Philip's award-winning book Sacred Earth Sacred Soul: Celtic Wisdom for Reawakening to What Our Souls Know and Healing the World (especially Chapters 1, 2, and 7 drawing on the wisdom of Pelagius, Brigid, and Teilhard de Chardin).

John Philip Newell is a Celtic teacher and author of spirituality who calls the modern world to reawaken to the sacredness of Earth and every human being. A 'wandering teacher,' he follows the ancient path of many lone teachers before him in the Celtic world, seeking the wellbeing of the world. He has been described as having 'the heart of a Celtic bard and the mind of a Celtic scholar,' combining in his teachings the poetic and the intellectual, the head as well as the heart, and spiritual awareness as well as political and ecological concern.

Cami Twilling is the Director of Earth & Soul, where she heads up the overall work of Earth & Soul and facilitates the spiritual practice component of the Earth & Soul's Annual Retreats. Cami is passionate about the relationship between spirituality and action and believes that spiritual vision and practice can play a vital role in helping to heal and transform our lives both individually and together.

February Jazz Vespers:

LA Jazz Quartet: Chuck Manning, Larry Koonse, Darek Oles & Jason Harnell

Sunday, February 23, 5:00 p.m., on the Chancel

The Los Angeles Jazz Quartet, active since 1994, is an L.A. based group made up of four musicians who share a similar vision of acoustic jazz in the new millennium. While definitely influenced by the sound, style and sensibilities of the classic jazz of the 1950's and 60's, the L.A. Jazz Quartet provides a fresh perspective in the context of the contemporary jazz ensemble. Most of the material performed by the L.A. Jazz Quartet is original and draws upon a varied palette of musical styles. The quartet can play music that is unashamedly lyrical and understated while at the same time possesses an ability to be as hard-edged as the music warrants. Reflecting LAJQ's philosophy that every band member is an integral part of the improvisation process, each member is also a composer contributing their own original material in a collective manner. There is no charge. No reservations required. Validated parking is available in Plaza las Fuentes. Info = jazz@allsaints-pas.org

All Saints Welcomes B'nai Simcha Jewish Community Pre-School!

From now on the voices of children will echo around the halls of ASC during the week because B'nai Simcha Jewish Community Pre-school has moved to All Saints. B'nai Simcha, which means "joyful children," lost their previous home at the Pasadena Jewish Temple and Center to the Eaton Canyon Fire. Many of their families have relocated for at least the short-term, and they're starting small as they rebuild their program. We're grateful to be able to provide them a new place to thrive. Their educational philosophy and values align closely with those of All Saints. The pre-school is inclusive, and welcomes children of all faiths, ages 0-5 years. They'll be open from 7:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, primarily in the Learning Center. If you see them when you're on campus, say hi!

All Saints hosts Workshops on Internalized Racial Oppression

Friday, March 7 and Saturday, March 8

Though here at All Saints we believe we are all called to do the work of racial justice, we also recognize that the work will not always look the same for all of us. One aspect of the work that will be different for some of us is the area of Internalized Racial Oppression. Internalized Racial Oppression, or IRO, is a complex, multi-generational socialization process, by which people of color live into the and internalize the falsehoods of white supremacy. Oppressive systems don't just infiltrate our society, but they infiltrate our very hearts, minds, bodies and even culture. On March 7th and March 8th, leaders from the National Episcopal Church will be helping us understand and heal from this insidious force. This workshop is open to anyone who identifies as a person of color. Meals will be provided and the workshops are free for all participants. Please register at the following link as space will be limited.

For our white siblings interested in this work, we invite you to please register for the Sacred Ground curriculum here.

What is Sacred Ground?

Sacred Ground is a film-and-readings-based dialogue series on race, grounded in faith. Small groups are invited to walk through chapters of America's history of race and racism, while weaving in threads of family story, economic class, and political and regional identity. Part of Becoming Beloved Community — The Episcopal Church's long-term commitment to racial healing, reconciliation, and justice in our personal lives, our ministries, and our society — the 11-part series is built around a powerful online curriculum of documentary films and readings that focus on Indigenous, Black, Latino, and Asian/Pacific American histories as they intersect with European American histories.

The series is open to all, and especially designed to help white people talk with other white people. Participants are invited to peel away the layers that have contributed to the challenges and divides of the present day – all while grounded in our call to faith, hope and love.

Sacred Ground is not brand new to All Saints Church. In 2021 a number of parish leaders and staff members assisted in introducing the program here in the Diocese of Los Angeles. Many of those who participated at that time were hoping to widen the circle by creating a parish-wide opportunity to engage with the material.

Who created Sacred Ground and Why?

The dialogue series developer and author is Katrina Browne, producer/director of the documentary Traces of the Trade: A Story from the Deep North. Browne is a lifelong Episcopalian who is dedicated to racial justice and healing. As a white woman, she is particularly concerned with the important work white people need to do in conversation with each other, as part of the larger project of Becoming Beloved Community. More here: <https://www.episcopalchurch.org/sacred-ground/about/>

When is Sacred Ground Coming to All Saints Church?

Sacred Ground 2025 was introduced at All Saints MLK Weekend (January 19) with a presentation in the Forum at 9:00 a.m. Registration will begin in February and the launch of the 11-part series of dialogue circles will begin in the Spring. There will be opportunities for both in person and online, daytime and evening, weekday and weekend groups. (Please Note: We have extended our roll out timeline due to the challenges of the Eaton Canyon disaster.)

Trained facilitators will be working in collaboration with Sacred Ground Coordinators MaryAnn Ahart and Lori Kizzia and under the direction of staff member Thomas Diaz, Director of Connection & Care.

For more information, please email SacredGroundASC@gmail.com

We are grateful to be returning to Sacred Ground as a process for healing relationships which have been wounded by a void in the ability to talk about and embrace each other's racial history and identity. We are confident that Sacred Ground will offer one of the steps we need to us move forward with the work that we have to do in 2025 and beyond.
