Homecoming Sunday, September 13 Welcome Home to the Place You Belong

On Homecoming Sunday we will gather to celebrate the start of a new program year, the gift of community, and the joy of being together again. Join us for a Sunday of worship, food, and fellowship as All Saints Church continues the journey of Becoming a Beloved Community of Belonging.

In addition to our festivities on the lawn, we will have a special moment during our liturgy when we gather to tell the truth as we dedicate a plaque marking our historic participation in the sin of segregation at a time when not all were welcomed home at All Saints Church. We believe that truth-telling is a sacred act, and that the work of building a truly beloved community requires a full and honest remembrance of the past as we celebrate incremental victories on the journey together into God's future.

So, join us as we continue that journey together: discovering together that the deepest of joys come by way of the fullest of remembrances. Lunch, music and fellowship on the lawn after the 10:00 service. All are welcome!

Another Step Toward Telling the Whole Story

James Baldwin famously noted that "Not everything that is faced can be changed, but nothing can be changed until it is faced." Join us at All Saints Episcopal Church in Pasadena on Sunday September 13th and on Monday September 14th, as we engage in an act of community remembrance to face All Saint's history of racial segregation. As part of that community remembrance, we will unveil a plaque to serve as a historical marker on our building's cornerstone that names and grieves this chapter in our parish's history. Our current building's cornerstone was laid in 1923, at a time when All Saints Church's White parishioners did not permit African Americans to attend worship services. This practice persisted for decades. It eventually led to the founding of St. Barnabas Episcopal Church in Pasadena as an act of resilience by the African Americans who were turned away. The plaque will tell this story so that our community might reflect and learn to grow towards what is God's true dream for us, a beloved community.

As part of our Homecoming service on September 13th we will gather outside on Euclid Avenue and Plaza Las Fuentes. We chose the date of homecoming to lament the reality that despite our name, all of the saints were not always welcome to come home. Together we will engage in a liturgy and worship whose cornerstone is truth telling.

On Monday, September 14th we will expand our community remembrance and truth telling to include our civic and community leadership, as we recognize that this story is part of the wider story of Pasadena.

Together, with God's help, let us face what cannot be changed, in order to change what we can still become.

Make Good Trouble! Write Postcards to Increase Voter Turnout, Wed., Sept. 16

Democracy works best when everyone can participate in the process. For this midterm election, All Saints Church ensure voters in voter-suppression states know their voices – and their votes – matter by writing 1,000 postcards to voters of color in North Carolina and Georgia. We have worked in our Sacred Being, Sacred Ground, and Beloved Community Circles sessions to build relationships and a greater understanding among ourselves about racial and ethnic justice, and the intersectionality of our multiple identities.

Now, together, we are ready to engage in collaborative work that gives deeper meaning to becoming a beloved community. We are partnering with the Center for Common Ground, anon-partisan, Black and women-led voting rights organization founded in 2018 that focuses on voter suppression in states where more than 20% of voters are voters of color (Alabama, Arizona, Florida, Georgia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Texas).

Join us in this important work!

Wednesday, September 16, 6:30–8:30 p.m. in the Forum

- We will provide postcards, addresses, scripts, guidelines and best practices.
- Please bring your own pens and postcard stamps if possible.
- We invite you to support these efforts by donating money for stamps if you are unable to write cards.

Please register here to reserve your postcards.

Celebrating Susan Russell: 50 Years in Pursuit of a Promise

This week, we celebrate our own Rev. Canon Susan Russell and give thanks for her extraordinary and continuing leadership in the movement for full LGBTQ+ inclusion in The Episcopal Church. Susan recently returned from Minneapolis, where nearly 200 Episcopalians gathered September 3–5 for Full & Equal: 50 Years in Pursuit of a Promise, marking the 50th anniversary of the historic 1976 General Convention resolution declaring that gay and lesbian people are children of God with a “full and equal claim” upon the love, acceptance, pastoral concern and care of the Church.

As chair of General Convention’s Task Force on LGBTQ+ Inclusion, Susan helped lead and organize this churchwide gathering — bringing together generations of advocates to remember the struggle and progress of the last half century, preserve the stories of those who helped change the Church, and prepare for the work still ahead. It is work Susan knows not only as a church leader, but as someone who has spent decades helping bend the arc of The Episcopal Church toward greater justice, inclusion and belonging. For Susan, the anniversary was not simply a celebration of how far the Church has come, but “another leg on the relay race” toward the beloved community we are still becoming. As she told those gathered in Minneapolis, the lessons of this movement matter far beyond the walls of the Church: “We, as the church, have an opportunity to give an example to a culture right now where there are forces at work trying to push us back on everything.” Susan, we are proud of you. We are grateful for the courage, persistence, faith and fierce love you have brought to this work, and for the countless ways you have helped make the Church a place where more people can know that they truly belong.

It is a gift to have your voice, your witness and your ministry as part of the life of All Saints. As we continue our own work of becoming a Beloved Community of Belonging, we celebrate you, and we give thanks for all you have done, and all you continue to do, to help make that beloved community more real.

All Saints Church Creative Writing Group

Thursday, September 24, 6:30 – 8:30 p.m., in the Guild Room

The All Saints Writers Group brings writers from different walks of life together to discuss their pieces in a workshop-style setting. In this small group, writers are able to read their work in any genre they choose (memoir, creative nonfiction, poetry, novel, short story, etc.), and all can give feedback to, and hear suggestions from, the other writers in the room.

This builds a sense of community, and helps the writers to become more confident in their work.

We meet every other Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Bernice Fong facilitates. Be assured: whoever you are, and whatever you write, there is a place for you here!

Fiction Fun Reads

The Code of the Woosters

Friday, Sept. 25, in the Guild Room

Early discussion at 6:30 p.m. Book discussion 7:00–8:30 p.m.

Our group’s name has the word “fun” in it, and everybody agrees that P. G. Wodehouse makes people laugh and meets this standard. In a Guardian review of this book, published in 2018, Charlotte Jones said that what “makes Wodehouse wonderful” isn’t “the preposterous lunacy of the plots, or even the easy nostalgia of the setting; it is his prose. At the core of all of his stories is the surprise of language at its most flexible, fresh and”—here comes our word — “fun.”
