Raised in Milwaukee and currently based in Los Angeles and Paris, Sutton emerged in the 1990s with a fresh approach to jazz singing—one that blended impeccable musicianship, emotional depth, and a uniquely collaborative spirit. As leader of the acclaimed Tierney Sutton Band, she helped redefine the modern jazz vocal ensemble, creating recordings and performances that emphasized collective improvisation and sophisticated arrangements. Your word is used to focus your attention so that when thoughts or sensations arise you return gently to the sacred word. The prayer is done in silence for a 20 minute period.

Fall Fun: DIY Soap Making

Sunday, October 18, 11:30 a.m. in Sweetland Hall

A hands-on activity the whole family can enjoy together after service — part craft, part science, all fun. Kids and teens choose from a lineup of Halloween and autumn-inspired molds...think pumpkins, leaves, stars, and more... then customize their own bar with a mix of cozy scents plus fun colors to make it uniquely theirs. It's simple enough for little ones to enjoy the hands-on mixing and pouring and engaging enough that older kids and teens actually want to participate — no one's just going through the motions. Everyone walks away with a real, usable soap bar they made themselves, perfect for keeping or gifting to a friend or family member.

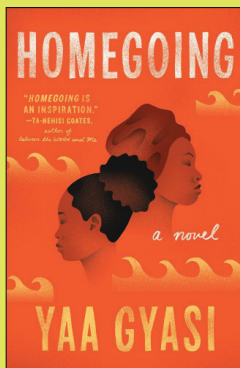

All Saints Church Creative Writing Group

Thursday, October 22, 6:30 – 8:30 p.m., in the Guild Room

The All Saints Writers Group brings writers from different walks of life together to discuss their pieces in a workshop-style setting. In this small group, writers are able to read their work in any genre they choose (memoir, creative nonfiction, poetry, novel, short story, etc.), and all can give feedback to, and hear suggestions from, the other writers in the room.

This builds a sense of community, and helps the writers to become more confident in their work.

We meet every other Thursday at 6:30 p.m. Bernice Fong facilitates. Be assured: whoever you are, and whatever you write, there is a place for you here! Information = frontdesk@allsaints-pas.org.

Fiction Fun! Reads Homegoing by Yaa Gyasi

Friday, October 23, in the Guild Room

6:30 p.m. Early discussion 7:00–8:30 p.m. Book discussion

Born in Ghana but raised in the U.S., with degrees from Stanford and the Iowa Writers' Workshop, Gyasi won the PEN/Hemingway for Debut Novel. Homegoing begins with half sisters in eighteenth-century Ghana. One prospers, but the other gets forced into slavery, and the novel tells what happened down seven generations. This is a complicated thing to do, but the New Yorker review by Laura Miller said that the novel "succeeds, by the end, in accumulating no small emotional power."

In George Bernard Shaw's comedic tribute to Chekhov, a menagerie of crackpots, dreamers and schemers, philosophers and thieves, search for the meaning of life and love. Directed by Artistic Director Nike Doukas (The Hothouse, The Tempest, Cymbeline). Written in the shadow of World War I as the British Empire crumbled, this magical dark comedy asks: where do we find strength in the face of chaos?

Paper cranes begin to fly, and Marina enters uncharted, terrifying waters. Is the unraveling of her comfort a curse, or the beginning of something wondrous, wild, and entirely new? Poignant, surprising, and darkly unconventional, At the Very Bottom of a Body of Water poetically explores how we navigate life after the unexpected.

Fiction Fun Reads Train Dreams by Denis Johnson

Friday, November 20, in the Guild Room

6:30 p.m. Early discussion 7:00–8:30 p.m. Book discussion

Johnson (1949–2017) was a complex person; a biography of him is called Flagrant, Self-Destructive Gestures. Discussing Train Dreams in the New York Times, Anthony Doerr said, “The story concerns the life of Robert Grainier, a fictional orphan shipped by train in 1893 into the woods of the Idaho panhandle. . . . What Johnson builds from the ashes of Grainier’s life is a tender, lonesome and riveting story, an American epic writ small. . .

You look up from the thing dazed, slightly changed.”

Following the service all are invited for a potluck dinner and discussion.

A Reminder About Our Children's Worship Bags

Our children's worship bags are a special part of Sunday mornings, and we love seeing them in children's hands each week! To keep them available for every child, the bags are meant to stay here at church, where they can be refreshed and shared each week. If a bag happens to have followed you home (it happens!), we'd be so grateful if you could bring it back next Sunday. Just drop it off at the welcome table and we'll make sure it's ready for the next child. Thank you for helping keep this ministry going for all our children!

The Courage and Cost of Truth-Telling: Confronting Injustice and Holding Power Accountable with Ivan Penn

Throughout his more than three decades as a professional journalist, Ivan Penn has faced pushback, a lawsuit and even threats because of his work as a messenger. That did not begin in recent years. It many times has been the response when speaking truth to power. He often references a statement attributed to Napoleon Bonaparte: "Four hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets." He likens the call of journalists to the work Jesus declared in announcing his ministry. In this presentation, he shares some of his experiences simply telling the truth.
