Centering Prayer is a meditation practice that is centered in the contemplative Christian tradition. A sacred word is chosen as your symbol of intention to consent to God's presence and action within. Your word is used to focus your attention so that when thoughts or sensations arise you return gently to the sacred word. The prayer is done in silence for a 20 minute period.

Advent Small Group – Christ’s Nativity in Art and Literature

This group, led by Wendy Furman-Adams, will meet on four Monday evenings, Dec. 2, 9, 16, and 23, 6:00-7:15 p.m. on Zoom. Register online here: <https://bit.ly/4fMjLFJ>

“When the Maker of time, the Word of the Father, was made flesh, he gave us his birthday in time; and he without whose divine bidding no day runs its course, in his Incarnation reserved one day for himself. He himself with the Father precedes all spans of time; but on this day, issuing from his mother, he stepped into the tide of the years.” (Augustine of Hippo, 354-430)

These words, preached in the 5th century, sound strange to 21st-century ears. Yet poets and artists have continually pondered the strangeness of this central mystery of our Christian faith: that the very Word who creates the world chooses to enter that world as a shivering, speechless infant—to live and die as one of the “least” of us. Over the four weeks of Advent, this small group will explore the mysteries of Christ’s Incarnation in poetry, prose, and the visual arts: the humble young woman whose humility leads to her exaltation; the Infant who pleads for humanity before he has learned to speak; the shepherds and magi transformed by their encounter with the infant God. We will enter into the mystery of kairos time, by which Christ is repeatedly born—Hodie (this day)—in the eucharistic celebration of his birth. For these artists and poets, the strangeness of the scene overcomes all estrangement, bringing each of us into an intimate conversation with Christ himself.

We will also take a short detour to include Memorial Park and some interesting history. As we conclude, we will complete our circle on Dayton Street, a community that was once the first black-owned businesses in Pasadena.

Urban Walkers: Bungalow Courts in Pasadena

Sunday, December 8, 4:00 p.m.

Pasadena is attributed as the birthplace of the bungalow court. Generally speaking, they are a cluster of small one-story individual houses surrounding a common landscaped courtyard. They were designed as rentals for those who could not yet afford to buy a house, or need to down-size as empty-nesters. They provided privacy as well as community. The bungalow courts date from 1909 through 1942 representing a wide variety of architectural styles.

The largest concentration in Pasadena is to be found on South Marengo Avenue. On our two-mile walk (covering both sides of Marengo), we will see 12 Bungalow Courts, some recognized by "National Register of Historic Places." This is an afternoon stroll, from Del Mar to Glenarm and back, with interesting sights and plenty of time for conversation. Urban Walkers invite you to join this walk!

If interested in this walk or would like more information, contact Robb Grimm at rgrimm0320@gmail.com (reservation deadline December 4)
